

BIG BAD WOLF

CHILDREN'S THEATRE COMPANY

Core Values

Fun!

Theatre is FUN! We want everyone associated with us, and of course, our audiences, to have fun. While we are serious about Theatre we will always have a great time.

EXCELLENCE!

Our performances reflect our commitment to excellence in all areas of performing arts.

Even though we are a volunteer organisation we will never settle for second best and will always strive for improvement and greater excellence.

Teamwork!

The teamwork required in Theatre builds important life skills in all participants such as decision-making, cooperation, communication, and leadership.

We are appreciative of the many volunteers involved in our Company working together to present high quality productions.

Respect!

We believe that showing respect is the best way to teach respect. We expect everyone to show respect to each other, those in authority, and themselves. We respect our audiences enough to want to always give our best.

Integrity!

We promise to be good guardians of the resources and finances entrusted to us. Just as character is important to an individual, honesty and integrity are vital to our Company. Children and young people working within an organisation that values integrity will develop character traits such as commitment, discipline, dependability and honesty.

LOVE!

WE LOVE WHAT WE DO!!! We share that love with all who join us on stage, and with our audiences. And to our army of dedicated volunteers, our families and friends, and all who support us – THANK YOU – we would not be here without you
